

Who we are:

The friends of Delaware libraries, Inc. was organized in 1995 as the first statewide organization to link all other library friends groups in the State of Delaware.

There is an increased need for sound local libraries to support the educational and community needs throughout Delaware in these times of rapid change and growth. The friends of Delaware libraries, Inc. is an all-volunteer organization composed of directors, officers, and members representing many libraries throughout the State. Through DLA Bulletin we present current information and various meetings we provide a forum for the exchange of ideas and experiences.

By becoming a member of the friends of Delaware libraries, you will support the commitment to provide outstanding libraries for our communities.

What we do:

- promote the resources and services of Delaware Libraries.
- provide assistance to local library Friends groups
- support and work with the Delaware Division of Libraries in developing library services.
- provide opportunities for local Friends of Libraries groups too share ideas and network for mutual goals
- sponsor an annual meeting of all Friends of Libraries organizations
- work with State and local representatives on issues of concern to libraries.
- work with statewide organizations such as the Delaware Library Association to promote the use of libraries
- recognize the work of organizations and individuals who contribute to the progress of Delaware’s libraries
- support programs such as National Library Week, Delaware Book Festival, and the Delaware Library Association’s Library Legislative Day.
