

To read without reflecting is like eating without digesting.

– Edmund Burke

“The range of what we think and do is limited by what we fail to notice, and because we fail to notice, there is little we can do to change, until we notice how failing to notice shapes our thoughts and deeds. -Ronald Laing

I never know what I think about something until I read what I've written on it.

– William Faulkner

The best of a book is not the thought which it contains, but the thought which it suggests; just as the charm of music dwells not in the tones but in the echoes of our hearts. - Oliver Wendell Holmes

You learn something every day if you pay attention. ~Ray LeBlond

You can either read something many times in order to be assured that you got it all, or else you can define your purpose and use techniques which will assure that you have met it and gotten what you need. – Peter Kump
